Russia Agrees To Budapest Withdrawal

Nagy Orders Troop Freeze; Fighting Ebbs

Concessions Made By Premier; Rebels Control Wide Areas

VIENNA, Oct. 28 (UPI)—Communist Hungary announced today Russia had agreed to quick withdrawal of Soviet troops from Budapest. Fighting appeared ebbing after six bloody days with rebels in control of wide areas in the west and in cities all over the rent-torn land.

Premier Imre Nagy ordered Soviet forces and Hungarian soldiers loyal to his regime frozen in their present positions. They were directed to fire only if fired upon.

Nagy promised immediate negotiations for withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Hungary. He said the hated Hungarian secret police, another prime object of the rebels' wrath, would be disbanded.

Whether these surprise concessions would be enough was a question. A radio broadcast from the rebel stronghold of Gyoer in the northwest demanded Soviet troops quit Hungary at once flying white flags.

Rebels Ask Free Election

The rebel broadcast called for free general elections and the withdrawal of Hungary from the Warsaw Pact, the Soviet-dominated defense alliance in Eastern Europe.

While Hungary appeared to be in the midst of an armed and uneasy truce, there were reports Russia even now was sending two strong armored units and air force ground personnel into eastern Hungary from Communist Romania.

The report was made to the U. N. Security Council in New York by Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain at the height of debate on the Hungarian situation. Dixon said he was told the forces were moving fast toward Budapest.

This report, if true, would cause a fresh outburst of fighting, for rebels from Budapest to the Austrian frontier voiced their hatred and distrust of the Russians.

Fighting Lets Up

Associated Press Correspondent Endre Marton reported from Budapest that fighting appeared coming gradually to an end in the battle-ravaged Hungarian capital.

Marton said fighting was heavy through Sunday morning but there was only sporadic gunfire after nightfall Sunday. He said youths among the rebels seemed in no mood to surrender.

Rokossovsky Seen Leaving Polish Scene

WARSAW, Oct. 28 (UPI)—There were indications today that Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky is no longer in direct control of the Polish Defense Ministry and army.

An informed source said Rokossovsky is officially "on leave." His duties apparently have fallen on Gen. Marian Spychalski, who was appointed deputy defense minister last week.

Some Polish sources believe Rokossovsky may soon be appointed commander in chief of the Warsaw Pact military organization which has its headquarters in Moscow.

In this way, he could be removed from the Polish political scene without loss of face.

West Assails Soviet Armed 'Repression'

Moscow Rebuffed As U.N. Considers Hungarian Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 28 (UPI)—The Western Big Three today assailed the use of Soviet soldiers and tanks in Hungary and assured Hungarians the freedom-loving world has not forgotten them.

France and Britain appealed to the Soviet Union to end its actions in Hungary. The United States pleaded that "those responsible for the repression of the Hungarian people" cease such measures.

All three nations spoke at a Security Council session urgently convened at their request. But none of the three outlined specifically what they thought the Council might do.

Russia Replies

In a heated reply, the Soviet Union charged the United States inspired the trouble in Hungary and accused the Western delegates of shedding crocodile tears in expressing the Western concern for the Hungarians.

The Soviet Union tried to keep the Council from discussing the Hungarian question at all. It was the only nation voting "no" on the question of considering the situation, but Yugoslavia abstained after voicing objection to taking up the case.

It was the third Sunday session of the Council in U.N. history—Korea in 1950 and Guatemala in 1954 were the subjects at the previous Sunday meetings. As the meeting got underway about 5,000 persons, many of Hungarian descent, demonstrated outside U.N. headquarters with banners calling for Russian withdrawal from Hungary.

Lodge Speaks For West

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Chief U.S. delegate, was the first speaker for the West.

"The convening of this Council," Lodge said, "reflects the deep anxiety and concern throughout the world regarding the bloodshed in Hungary. We fervently hope that the action in bringing this matter to the Council and the Council's decision to consider the grave events in Hungary will move those responsible for the repression of the Hungarian people to discontinue such measures."

"We hope too that the Council's

"Shakedown" Denied By Hall

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (UPI)—Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, said today no government contract "has ever been controlled by any action on my part or anyone in the national committee."

Hall made this assertion when questioned in a filmed television interview ("Reporters' Roundup") about a recent House investigation of a contract for a 43-million-dollar expansion of a government-owned nickel plant at Nicaro, Cuba.

Rep. Reuss (D-Wis.), a member of the Government Operations subcommittee which made the inquiry, has said testimony indicated a "political shakedown" by Hall.

Hall said he would be "happy" to testify later.

"When election is over I will be there because there's nothing to it at all; it's just so much bunk."

He has told the subcommittee he is too busy to testify before the election.

Crowd Gathers At Jail

Mullis said the father and Woods returned in a few minutes to the jail, saying "some white men were following them and they were scared." They asked that Woods be returned to jail for safety.

The officer added:

Churchill Flies Home

NICE, France, Oct. 28 (UPI)—Sir Winston Churchill flew back to London today with his wife, after a two-month stay on the French Riviera.

Churchill will be "happy" to testify later.

Survey Discloses "Solid South Of Segregation" Broken

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (UPI)—The private and public employment Fund for the Republic said today housing, transportation, religion, hand and the 12 "Southern" states discriminatory practices, particularly in the key fields of employment and housing.

The period covered is from May, 1954 — when the Supreme Court ruled that segregation in schools is unconstitutional — to 1954 was "simply the most far-reaching in a long series of developments" and desegregation incidents of the past two years "were additions to a substantial list of Southern precedents."

Fleming said the survey showed that the Supreme Court decision reaching into the 12 "Solid South" states and the border states of Oklahoma, Missouri, West Virginia, Maryland and Delaware. Fleming said:

"The common notion that 'desegregation just can't work' in the South is plainly contradicted by the findings."

The nearly 1100 instances of desegregation discovered were almost evenly divided between the

Vote Republican On November 6

Four years ago when DeWitt S. Hyde was running for his first term in Congress, he promised, if elected, to open an office in Cumberland, to visit it regularly and thus make himself readily available to his constituents in the westernmost part of his district.

When Republican DeWitt Hyde first made that promise his opponents labeled it "political oratory," but when Hyde was elected to Congress he kept his word and opened an office here. It is still open and is visited regularly and frequently by our congressman who believes that Western Marylanders should not be forced to go all the way to Washington to confer with their elected representative. He comes to the people.

We cite this also to illustrate that DeWitt Hyde is a man of his word. When he says he will do something, he does his very best to achieve that end. He now has acquired four years of experience in the Congress which should make him an even more valuable public servant. Why trade him for Democratic inexperience.

Actually, when you get right down to it, the Democrats have no real issues in this election, following only tactics to divert the voter from the Republican achievements of peace and prosperity. Democratic candidates for both the House and Senate as well as the presidential nominee have espoused no really concrete proposals. All have been accused by the Republicans of dealing in misrepresentation and the half truth.

The answers to two questions can settle the decision for Western Marylanders. Are Western Marylanders fighting a war anywhere? Are economic prospects in Western Maryland better now than they were four years ago?

The answers are obvious. American boys are not engaged in fighting a war anywhere in the world. And, certainly, economic prospects in Western Maryland are better now than they have been for some years.

Is there any good reason to change? We can think of none.

Our solemn hope is that President Eisenhower will be re-elected and that he will be given a Republican Congress to carry out his program, Marylanders can help by re-electing John Marshall Butler to the U. S. Senate, and DeWitt S. Hyde to the House of Representatives from the Sixth District.

Democrats have tried to take credit for everything good that was enacted by the last Congress, but blamed the Republican party for all that perhaps was not so good. If the Republican party has control of Congress, then the proper credit can be given to those who deserve it. There need be no quibbling.

Republicans measure up when the chips are down.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

No Politics Here

Some regard it as courage. Others regard it as brazen. Some say that the one who has not sinned should cast the first stone. Others say that the whole issue has been made by press agents for profit and that the morals of a nation should not be debased by profanity.

This is what Ingrid Bergman said:

"All right, I had a baby before I was married. It's not the first time that ever happened to a woman . . . If the two people have a happy family, isn't that what counts? Anyone can make a mistake. It's how they act after the mistake that should be judged."

Miss Bergman unfortunately misses the point of her argument, although elsewhere she did state it differently:

"My decision was a selfish one. I made it for my own sake. I put my happiness first. But I never dreamed it would end up as it did—never! I thought sensible people could get divorced and be reasonable about everything. It never entered my head that I'd encounter such bitterness and that I'd lose Pia."

These quotations may have been prepared by Miss Bergman and may represent her philosophy of life or they may be a press agent's concept of what she ought to say to appeal to the American box office. In an era when the statements of principle by candidates for president are prepared by ghost-writers who have no principles but work for hire, it would not be astonishing to find ghost-written interviews and ghost-written magazine articles.

Miss Bergman's argument, in effect, is that there is nothing particularly wrong about a married woman bearing a child by a man not her husband. If she is right, then why should there be such an institution as marriage at all? All that is necessary is the desire, the craving, the yen for what she, or any individual, calls happiness. And in such cases what constitutes happiness? It is apparently the satisfaction of private lusts unrestrained by social customs.

Biologically there is nothing wrong with this argument. The human race and the alley cat have much in common biologically. But sociologically man has developed the family and has struggled for tens of thousands of years to preserve it.

It used to be the view of some sociologists that the family system came into existence to preserve property. Woman was, in some societies, regarded as chattel and was owned first by her father and then by her husband.

Karl Marx said in his Manifesto:

"On what foundation is the present family, the bourgeois family, based? On capital, on private gain. In its completely developed form this family exists only among the bourgeoisie. But this state of things finds its complement in the practical absence of the family among proletarians, and in public prostitution."

"The bourgeois family will vanish as a matter of course when its complement vanishes, and both will vanish with the vanishing capital."

But Soviet Russia discovered what the human race has known for centuries, namely that the destruction of the family system leads to social and intellectual decay. Soviet Russia has gone puritanical and regards the American obsession with sex a form of hooliganism representing Western decay. In fact, for such conduct as Miss Bergman permitted herself, a communist could be expelled from the Russian Communist party.

The Brink Moves Ever Closer

No Decisive Change Found In Gary Revisited

By Stewart Alsop

GARY, Ind. — Last spring, in his first attempt to feel the public pulse this reporter spent a day talking to the voters in this mid-Western industrial city, and thereafter reported "two strong impressions."

"One is that President Eisenhower is stronger with the voters — at least outside the farm areas — than in 1952. Another is that something sad and mysterious has happened to tarnish the public image of Adlai Stevenson."

No Decisive Change

I have just made a second expedition to Gary to try to find out if there has been any marked change in the way its voters are thinking and talking. The answer seems to be that there has been a change — but not a decisive change.

On this second expedition, I polled Gary's 13th Precinct, because its vote in 1952 closely paralleled the three to two Democratic vote in the city as a whole, and talked to about five per cent of the voters. The precinct consists of smallish, two-story, usually two-family houses, often rather shabby, often with pretty flower gardens. The day provided the usual surprises.

There was a small knot of Serbian refugees, who were impossible to interview — they clearly thought the stranger was from the secret police, and would only shake their heads and mumble. Then there was the self-proclaimed Socialist, who announced that he wanted to vote for, of all people, T. Coleman Andrews, the extreme right winger.

But there was also a significant fact that emerged from the interviews. Not one of the Democratic voters interviewed in this heavily Democratic precinct intended to vote for Stevenson because of a personal feeling for the man, or because of any of the issues he has developed during the campaign. The Stevenson voters always had other reasons for voting for him.

Against Adlai's Stand

There was the nurse who was going to vote for Stevenson because "I know what a heart attack means," there was an elderly man with a nightmare memory of the great depression — "Why, many went crazy and hundreds committed suicide" — who blamed the Republicans for it. And there were many others who were for Stevenson because "I've always been a Democrat" or "The Democrats are for the little guys." There was only one man who was aware of the main issues Stevenson has raised — the draft and the hydrogen bomb tests — and he said firmly that Stevenson's stand had persuaded him to vote for Eisenhower.

Altogether, here as elsewhere, there is a queer blankness of feeling about Stevenson. Compared with last spring, to be sure, this is a positive advance for Stevenson, for then this reporter was astonished by the "curious and inexplicable hostility to Stevenson" which was evident in Gary. Now the hostility has almost all evaporated — except, of course, among strong Republicans — and they accept him pallidly.

By the same token, the image of President Eisenhower as somehow above politics has been considerably dimmed in recent months. There is no question that most people here in Gary, as elsewhere, still "like Ike." But many people, especially the Democrats, now think of him as a Republican, and even as a politician.

Thus you find people — especially the Democrats who switched to Eisenhower in 1952 — being pulled both ways. "Eisenhower is a very good man," said a steelworker, "But he's a Republican and the Democrats are more for the working man."

Only Slightly Smaller

Such people are the undecided voters, who will determine the outcome of the election, and who are still surprisingly numerous here in Gary, where for example, almost a quarter of those interviewed remained undecided. Quite a few previous Eisenhower voters had drifted into this pulled-both-ways category, and one came away with the impression that the Eisenhower percentage here would be slightly smaller than in 1952 — but only slightly smaller.

One also came away with the impression that the shift to Stevenson might have been decisive if only he could have conveyed a positive image of himself to the working people of Gary — the paternal protector as in the case of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the embattled friend of the little man as in the case of Harry S. Truman. But he has not done so.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

In politics you never cross a bridge until the appropriation has been okayed. What we miss this election is a third party that makes the other two sound sensible.

An institution is the lengthened shadow of a man including his hat and coat tails. A third party is the same institution on visitors' day.

The first third party popped up in 1784 before there was anything to vote about. They still operate on that principal.

This is the year of the particularists. Who in 172 years of existence have had more names than hamburger steak on French menus.

New Medical Use Found For Waste Material

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many plans have been devised to improve circulation in the lower extremities. These include operations on the nerves and blood vessels as well as suction gadgets that force the blood into the toes. But the latest is unique. It utilizes the thin amniotic sac that forms the bag of waters enveloping the unborn child.

This sac usually is discarded, along with the placenta (afterbirth), following delivery of the baby. The amniotic sac resembles the material used in making plastic bags and is easily separated from the placenta after delivery. When it is to be used in treatment, the substance is cleaned and sterilized and kept in a deep-freeze until needed.

This method of improving poor circulation was devised by Dr.

arteries or to Buerger's disease.

All had complained of cramps in the calf of one leg on walking, with relief after resting. This order, called intermittent claudication, is associated with obstruction of the blood vessels. The diagnosis was confirmed completely in 29; moderate improvement occurred in seven; and four remained unchanged. A 57-year-old printer who had been unable to walk 15 yards without pain in both calves walked 3½ miles after surgery and felt "perfectly fit."

Dr. Troensegaard-Hansen also used this method in the treatment of leg ulcers; healing took place in cases that stemmed from poor circulation. Another British physician had read of this work and used the therapy in acroangiitis. This circulatory disorder differs from intermittent claudication but the results were just as good.

On this side of the world, Dr. Julian A. Sterling used the amniotic membrane to cover large burns in two patients. I am not endorsing this type of treatment — merely reporting it. Further study will be necessary.

TOMORROW: Bronchial irritation and lung cancer.

Hagerstown Ties Fort Hill For Lead In CVAL Grid Race

Handley High Bows To Hubs In 13-0 Tilt

Strock, Miller Get TDs At Winchester; Leaders Tie At 3-1

Coach Mel Henry's Hagerstown High School grididers tied Fort Hill's Sentinels for first place in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League by defeating Handley High's Judges in the rain at Winchester, Va., Saturday night by the score of 13-0.

The victory gave the Hubs a 3-1 record in the league and an overall mark of 5-2-4 for the campaign. Hagerstown's final CVAL game is with Frederick on Nov. 9 in Hagerstown. Fort Hill's last league engagement is with Allegany on Thanksgiving Day.

Terry Strock scored Hagerstown's first td on a 20-yard run midway in the second period. With a minute remaining in the third quarter Tackle Bob Miller picked up a fumble on the Handley 10 and ran it across for the second touchdown. Strock kicked the extra point.

Four minutes after the game got under way, Pat Henry, Hagerstown senior, and son of the coach, sprinted 67 yards but the score was nullified because of offensive holding.

The Hubs gained 169 to the Judges' 86 yards rushing. Handley picked up an additional 39 yards on passing while Hagerstown didn't gain through the air lanes.

A total of 140 yards was chalked up against the teams in penalties. Handley was set back 90 yards and Hagerstown 50. The standings to date:

The Mighty Batsmith

Babe Ruth had a great year in 1927. In addition to his record 60 home runs, the Bambino smacked 29 doubles and eight triples for 417 total bases. He scored 158 runs, batted in 164 and finished the campaign with a .356 batting mark.

An interesting observation is that Ruth, never noted for his speed on the base paths, stole seven bases that year.

Browns Given 24-16 Beating By Pittsburgh

Steelers Overcome 13-0 Deficit And Avenge Early Loss

By DICK SMITH

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28 (AP) — A Pittsburgh Steelers team, whose coach had called it "lackadaisical", overcame a 13-0 deficit incurred in the first three minutes and overpowered the Cleveland Browns today, 24-16.

The loss virtually eliminated the National Football League's defending champs from a chance at this year's pro football title play. The victory snapped Pittsburgh's three-game losing streak.

With quarterback Ted Marchibroda hitting for 227 yards on passes, and a scrappy defensive line providing repeated breaks, the Steelers avenged their 14-10 loss to the Browns earlier this year.

That victory was the only one Cleveland has scored in five games, and Coach Paul Brown himself said at the season's start the league's conference winners could afford to lose no more than four.

The turning point of the game was also the most spectacular thriller for the crowd of 50,358. It came in the second quarter with the Steelers leading 14-13, just two minutes before the half.

Jack Butler of Pittsburgh intercepted a Babe Parilli pass to stall a Browns drive that had carried 52 yards to the Steelers' 24. Butler returned the ball to the Pittsburgh 25 and after two line plays got nowhere, Marchibroda heaved a long pass to Lowell Perry, who took it on the Cleveland 30, shook off Junior Wren, and went across the goal line all alone. The total gain was for 75 yards.

Except for a 28-yard field goal by Lou Groza, two minutes into the last quarter, all of the Browns' scoring was done in the first three minutes. A 68-yard pass gain from Parilli to Dante Lavelli brought one touchdown. Halfback Don Paul carried an intercepted Marchibroda pass and ran 35 yards for the other.

The Steelers scored two other touchdowns in the second quarter, while the 7-15 Little Egypt will be the 75-yard clincher.

Cleveland ..... 13 0 3—16

Pittsburgh's scoring — Touchdowns: Nickel (11, pass from Marchibroda); Chandoux (1 foot, 22 yards); Amico (12 yards); Terry (12 yards); Pouty (12 yards); Gandy (12 yards); Parilli (12 yards); Lavelli (12 yards); Groza (12 yards); Paul (35, intercepted pass).

Chicago Pros Suffer First NFL Setback

Dorow Tosses Pair Of TD Passes After Baker's Field Goal

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Washington Redskins handed the Chicago Cardinals their first loss of the season 17-14 today with a pair of touchdowns in the third quarter that wiped out a 14-3 Chicago lead.

The loss dropped the Cardinals into a first place tie in the Eastern Division of the National Football League with the New York Giants who beat Philadelphia 20-3.

Washington, with a field goal in the second quarter, trailed 14-3 at halftime.

A roughing the passer penalty against the Cardinals set up Washington's first touchdown in the third period and the Skins turned a Cardinal fumble into another touchdown and their second triumph in five games. The Cardinals now have a 4-1 record.

Al Dorow, formerly of Michigan State, passed for both Washington scores. Dorow hit halfback Dick James with a 34-yard pass for Washington's first touchdown and then found end Steve Meilinger with a 40-yard pass.

The Cardinals wasted no time in grabbing a 14-0 lead in the first quarter. They took the opening kickoff and marched 73 yards in 12 plays with quarterback Lamar McLean hitting Max Boydston with a 39-yard touchdown pass. Shortly before the quarter ended, Johnny Olszewski capped a 65-yard march with a seven-yard touchdown dash up the middle.

Washington's only score in the first half was a 22-yard field goal by Sam Baker.

Washington ..... 0 3 14 0—17

Casares Paces Bears To Win

Scores Four Times, 49ers Lose, 38-21

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28 (UPI)—Bruising fullback Rick Casares scored four touchdowns today as the Chicago Bears humbled the San Francisco 49ers 38-21 to remain in the thick of the National Football League's Western Conference race.

Casares, a 225-pounder from Florida, three times bucked the line from one-yard out and once crashed over guard for three to run his season's touchdown total at 10.

The Bears took a 14-0 lead on a pass interception and a pass interference ruling in the first quarter. The 49ers trailed 24-14 at halftime but stayed in contention until late in the third period.

San Francisco, playing before 53,612 fans in Kezar Stadium, could not keep up with Casares, elusive speedster Perry Jetes and the Bears' Ed Brown-to-Harlen Hill pass combination.

In addition to Casares' scoring, Harlan Carl added a touchdown on a 5-yard run and George Blanda kicked a 15-yard field goal plus five conversions.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Bears and left them with a 4-1 record, a game off unbeaten Detroit's Western Conference pace.

Rookie quarterback Earl Morrell, the 1955 All America from Michigan State, started for the 49ers. He moved the club 80 yards in six plays and 72 in three for two second period touchdowns. The first came on a five-yard slam by Hugh McElhenny and the second on a 29-yard pass play to end Gordy Soltau.

Chicago ..... 14 10 7 7—38

San Francisco ..... 0 14 0 7—21

Chicago scoring — Touchdowns: Casares (4, 1, plunge; 1 run; 1, plunge; 3, run); Carl (5, run). Field goal: Blanda (15). Conversions: Blanda 5.

San Francisco scoring — Touchdowns: McElhenny (2, run; 50, run); Soltau (29, run-pass from Morrell). Conversions: Soltau 3.

10-29-56 DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAKR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

South End Plans Halloween Parade

The annual Halloween celebration sponsored by the South Cumberland Business Men's Association will be presented Wednesday evening, with a mummers parade as a feature of the program.

The parade will form at Mary Street, with the line of marching up Virginia Avenue to First Street, where it will disband. Starting time is 7:30 p. m.

Units participating include the Shrine Drum Corps, the senior and junior bands of Fort Hill High School, the drum and bugle corps of Fulton Myers American Legion Post, the Sad Sacks marching unit from Lonaconing and the Johnson Heights baton twirlers.

Plans Fun Fair

The annual Fun Fair at John Hinsdale School will be held Tuesday starting at 7:30 p. m. George Warner is chairman and the Homeroom Mothers are in charge of variety booths and entertainment.

National Guard Joins Search For Countian

Missing Hunter Still Unlocated

More than 100 participants, including Company D, Maryland National Guard, found nothing in their search for 65-year-old George L. Langford, missing since Wednesday from his home in Zihlman.

A systematic search has been conducted throughout the heavily wooded area surrounding Zihlman since Saturday, and Tic. D. A. Tucker who organized the searching party, said last night that the searchers had come up with nothing.

The search will be continued today beginning about 10:30 a.m. at Zihlman, Tic. Tucker added, and he said any volunteer help will be greatly appreciated.

The National Guard company, divided into three groups and using walkie talkie radios to relay information, spearheaded the search party, which combed much of the area yesterday.

Tucker said that he has divided the district into sections and the searchers are thoroughly combing each section. As the search continues the circle around Zihlman where the elderly hunter is believed to be missing will gradually be widened.

State Police reported that Langford left his home Wednesday night to go hunting and is believed somewhere in the wooded area near his home. Langford's family told authorities that the man spent a great deal of his time in the nearby woods and was quite familiar with the section.

Also helping yesterday were volunteer firemen from Mt. Savage, Frostburg, Corriganville and Bowman's Addition.

Negotiators Strive For Phone Pact

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28 (AP) — Last minute efforts of negotiators to write a new wage agreement covering 5,200 Maryland telephone workers before the old contract expired were unsuccessful tonight.

But a spokesman for the Communications Workers of America said the negotiations with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. would continue tomorrow. "We are still in business," he said.

He declined to make any statement on the progress of the talks.

He also said that a previous union statement that the latest company offer ranged from $2.50 to $4.50 a week, depending on job classifications, was now inaccurate. The spokesman wouldn't give any new figures.

The union represents some 3,900 plant employees and about 1,300 clerical workers.

Union members have authorized their leaders to call a strike. But there were no indications that failure to agree on a new contract before the deadline would result in an immediate walkout.

Bargaining sessions started earlier this month and have been continued on a daily basis.

The union has not announced a list of demands. However, a union spokesman said the latest company offer ranged from $2.50 to $4.50 weekly increases, depending on job classifications.

Attend Thespian Program

Some of the leaders at the silver anniversary celebration of Fort Hill High School's Thespian Troupe 230 over the weekend are shown at the school. Left to right are Miss Helen Smith of the Fort Hill faculty, Dr. J. H. Mayer and Rudolph Pugliese, both of the University of Maryland staff; Miss Jean Donahey, regional director of National Thespians for Western Pennsylvania; vania from Brownsville; Dorothy Stone White, director of drama, Frostburg State Teachers College, and James Byrd, technical director of the University Theatre at the University of Maryland. The program, which featured play contests, ended with a dance Saturday night. Delegations attended from Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Judge Favors Nonpolitical Magistrates

Today's Sermonette

Today's sermonette is a digest of a sermon preached recently by Rev. David C. Street, vicar of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, and St. Philip's Episcopal Church. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

You killed the Pioneer of Life! Acts 3:15 (Moffatt translation.)

Adventure Of Being A Christian

By REV. DAVID C. STREETT

St. Peter was plain-spoken.

After curing the lame man he shook his finger in the faces of the crowd and said: "You repudiated the Holy and Just One, the boon you asked was a murderer, and you killed the Pioneer of Life!" In that phase we see one striding out ahead of the crowd, heading for the high ranges yet uncrossed, moving gallantly and fearlessly into the unknown wastes of life. We think of beckoning far horizons, and of a fearless soul that dares to swear. We think of a tiny ship sailing upon uncharted seas. We think of men who in physical terms have been pioneers opening up vast new areas of the world. Columbus was not the only person in his time to believe the world was round, but how to prove it? Not any analysis, nor talk nor theories. It could only be proven by going to see whether or not it was round. He went, proved his point, and discovered a new world.

The moves, he said, would withdraw trial magistrates from political pressure and influence.

Judge Day, who lives in Bel Air, sits in both Hartford and Baltimore county courts.

He suggested that the term of office for trial magistrates be increased from two years to at least six, and possibly eight. He said the resulting greater stability in the office would improve the chances of getting better personnel for the position.

He did not go into detail about appointment procedure, but cited the "Missouri Plan" as a good example to follow. This requires the appointment of judges by the state governor, from a list submitted by a responsible body.

Judge Day warned that the change should be made voluntarily before some "sordid scandal causes the people to rise up in wrath and demand a change."

low Him, and find that He is pushing out the horizons of our lives because He is pushing out the limits of our belief in God. The word "Father." Men had spoken of the Fatherhood of God before. In all religions in the dim, dim shadows; only Jesus Christ said it plainly and boldly. Men who listen to Him know that things are forever changed in the way they think about God. We take our Christianity so easily, assuming blithely that God was closed up prevented the blaze from spreading out of control.

The flames were confined to the kitchen, where the fire began, and to a hallway, firemen said after answering the alarm about 4 p.m.

Using high-pressure fog spray to extinguish the fire, firemen donned gas masks to check the remainder of the building. The rooms were filled with gas fumes and smoke but undamaged except for the kitchen and hallway.
